The ideal candidate will have a strong background in history education and a commitment to fostering critical thinking, analytical skills, and a love for history among students. This role requires engaging lesson planning, effective classroom management, and the ability to create an inclusive learning environment.

Responsibilities:

- Develop and implement engaging and interactive lesson plans that align with state and national curriculum standards.
- Teach history courses, including U.S. History, World History, and/or other specialized history subjects as assigned.
- Foster an inclusive and dynamic classroom environment that encourages student participation and critical thinking.
- Assess and evaluate student progress through assignments, exams, and projects, providing timely feedback.
- Utilize a variety of instructional methods and technology to enhance learning.
- Collaborate with colleagues, administrators, and parents to support student success.
- Maintain accurate records of student performance and attendance.
- Participate in faculty meetings, professional development, and school events as required.

Qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree in History, Education, or a related field (Master's degree preferred).
- Prior teaching experience at the high school level preferred.
- Strong communication, organizational, and classroom management skills.
- Passion for history and education, with the ability to inspire students.
- Proficiency in integrating technology into the classroom.

Benefits:

- Competitive salary based on experience and qualifications.
- Health, dental, and vision insurance.
- Retirement plan options.
- Professional development opportunities.
- Supportive and collaborative school community.
- Tuition benefits at Yeshiva University schools for employee and immediate family after first year of employment.
